JOHNSTON SENIOR
HIGH SCHOOL
JOHNSTON, IOWA
VOLUME 40

We chose JOHNSON'S GREATEST HITS as a theme this year because we thought there were a lot of great things about this year to emphasize. The annual staff also had fun trying to think of song titles to march the pages.

The annual staff would like to thank everyone who contributed to the creation of this book. It takes more time and energy than anyone realizes to put together a yearbook. We hope that this year's annual will help you to remember the 1986-87 school year.

We would like to thank Woltz Studios and Miss Hudecek for the use of her photo art students. We would especially like to thank Scott Grimes, who did some extra photography for the annual.

In Remembrance

To the Family and Friends of Brian Knapp

I know
I do not stand alone
But rather as one of many
Fortunate enough to have been touched
By the very special spirit and strength of Brian

We think we SEE
What he could not see
Not with his eyes perhaps,
But with his heart, his soul, his mind
He missed "seeing" precious little
As he lived life each day his way

And he SAW
Much that we will never see
For with his temperance and tolerance
His dedication and appreciation
He was ever sensitive, ever accepting
When we fall short

Let us each
From this time forth
Be reminded, often, of all that Brian gave,
How little he asked in return,
And how determined he was to be
All that he could be

Top fleeting
Were his few short years
But his memory will live on
As a shining example to us all
Of a young man brave, a young man committed Simply to overcome

His humility unmeasured
His worth profound
I was not his teacher, he was mine
Let the record book show that
Brian was the WINNER
And we the LOSERS
Of a noble child and friend

Mary Bromer

"RULES OF LIFE"

You had a dream,
You were someone else
Someone with fortune and fame
But why be that person,
When you're just as good
You have nothing,
You have nothing to shame

Life's too short for worryin' and fussin',
There are much better things to do,
Like music and love
And the skies up above,
And that includes you

CHORUS

The rules of life are not limited,
There are so many
So many different ways
Just make your rule in the beginning,
And then sit down and play

We all have something good about us
Something great and original
We all have a purpose on this great earth,
Let's not be defeated by fate

The years go by so quickly
Let's not leave them away
Let's all be winners in this great life,
And run with it all the way

The rules of life are not limited
There are so many, so many different ways
Just make your rules in the beginning,
And then sit down and play,
Sit down and play

"I GOTTA BE READY"

I gotta be ready when my time comes,
To prove there's a song in me
Like Willie and Waylon and Johnny and Chris,
They changed their dream to reality

I gotta be ready to strut my stuff,
Light up that stage on my own
Like Ronnie & Mickey and Jerry Lee did,
On the Friday night Grand Ole Opry Show

I gotta be ready when my time comes
To prove that I'm a man
With a song in my heart, guitar in my hand,
And a dream that someday
The world might understand

I gotta be ready to go on my own,
And do what I really love best
I hit that long and windy road,
Make my niche in life,
Like all the rest

I gotta be ready to reach my goals,
Bring happiness to the crowd,
And when I leave through the back stage door,
I want to hear them crying for more

I gotta be ready when my time comes,
To prove that I'm a man,
With a song in my heart, guitar in my hand,
And a dream that someday
The world will understand

Brian Knapp

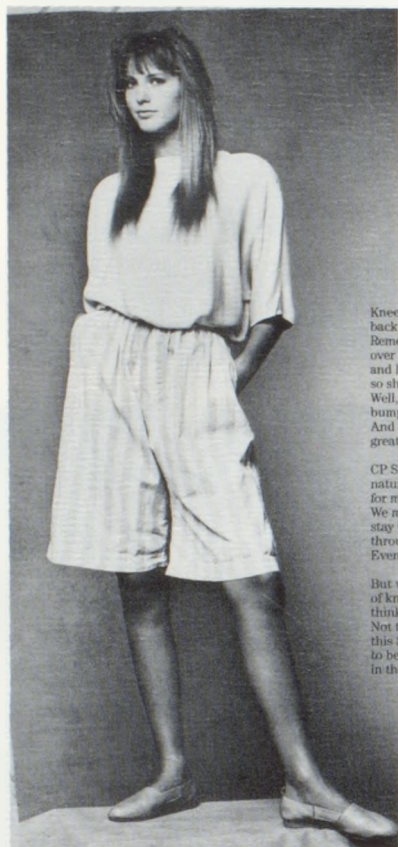

Dress You Up

As for fashion this year, almost anything goes. Miniskirts are still definitely the thing to wear. Anything denim, big shirts, oversized sweatshirts, sweaters and T-shirts have also been popular.

To accessorize outfits, gold or silver was the thing to wear. Not just gold and silver jewelry, but shoes, purses and belts, too, wear worn in gold or silver.

Boots and big sweaters were popular for the winter. During the warmer months baggy shorts with big t-shirts and miniskirts were worn by many students. New this year were the ren burton rees and tanks. Some of the more popular colors were pastels, especially peach and ivory.

As 1987 rolled in so did the lacy and feminine look, the country and western look, and the "punk" and casual looks.

These are a few of the movies that were playing during the 1986-1987 school year:

"Jumpin Jack Flash" is a cloak and dagger comedy where the heroine saves the man. "A Nightmare on Elm Street III" was said to be the most horrifying of the series. After this movie, Freddie Crouger was in everyone's nightmares. "Mannequin" was a movie for everyone. McCarthy played a department store window displayer with the help of a mannequin who came to life.

"Top Gun" was a high flying, fast moving, action packed aerial picture that could have taken any viewer's breath away. "Hoosier's" was a story of a basketball crazed town whose meager team went on to win state. "Stand By Me" was a gripping story of four boys who accidentally witnessed a murder. In their struggle to elude the killers, they become bonded by friendship. For all of you Trekkies, "Star Trek IV" took a new twist toward a "pointed tongue in cheek" view of a serious problem with whales and their possible extinction.

"Platoon" was a dramatic film portraying the horror of the Vietnam War. "Ferris Bueller's Day Off" was the all time favorite. This movie was about a teen and his friends who devised a fool proof plan to take a day off from school.

English Class or Old Fashioned Lovin'

The Language Arts Department is complimented by a quarter of experience in English Language and Literature. Mrs. Partington, Mrs. Korh, Mrs. Tews, and Miss Smith are the people involved with reaching the basics of writing, reading and speaking skills.

A teacher with years of experience is Mrs. Partington, who reaches Junior English and Psychology, and with 13 years of experience is Mrs. Tews, the Sophomore Speech and English 9, 10, 11 and 12 teacher. Mrs. Korh and Miss Smith are new to the Johnston School system. Mrs. Korh taught at Chariton, Iowa, and Drake University before reaching Sophomore English and Advanced Composition at Johnston. Miss Smith, who reaches Freshman English, Media, and is the annual Advisor told the staff, "I feel pretty comfortable here at Johnston. Mr. Downs and the rest of the staff have helped me to feel at home."

Upper right: The Third Annual Student-Faculty Tag Team English Wrestling Tournament champions show some of their winning moves.

C'est La Vie

The French students had a new teacher this year replacing Mrs. Moermond's year leave. Mrs. Michaels is a college teacher from Northern State College in Aberdeen, North Dakota. Mrs. Michaels was known for giving students a Straute of Frauds, and for her famous quotation of, "You can't learn anything when you're talking — only when you're listening."

A French Club was started with many eager members. They have many things planned including a ski trip to Minnesota. The elected officers of the French Club were: Janet Peterson, president; JenLe, secretary and Gina Way, treasurer. Mrs. Michaels also held a pizza party at her house for all French club members. She treated the students to brie and camembert (cheese).

Bottom right: Bernie Timmerman finds French II thrilling.

Espanol: This was Mrs. Rash's sixteenth year teaching Spanish at Johnston High. It was her second year teaching the eighth graders Spanish at the Middle School.

The Spanish Classes seemed excited about the upcoming summer trip to Mexico. Fundraising took place for the June eighteenth trip.

Washington, Churchill, Bonaparte; and of course Harswick, Carver and Pitz are all famous names in history. The last three names are well known at Johnston High School anyway. The three history courses offered at Johnston are World Studies, U.S. History and Government. Between Mr. Harswick's bizarre jokes, Mr. Carver's unique personality and Mr. Pitz's antics, we did manage to learn about the world we live in, both past and present.

Mr. Marty Harswick taught World Studies this year. A required class for sophomores, World Studies taught us about everything from prehistoric man to present civilization.

This year's U.S. History course was taught by Mr. John Carver. We learned important dates and names in this required junior course. We even learned some useful information in Government class this year from Mr. Pitz. In this senior required course, we were taught about how different forms of ruling power affect the various classes of people in all parts of the world.

History courses at Johnston helped us understand the world we live in a little better.

Walk Like An Egyptian

The Earth Science teacher, Mr. Briggs has taught at Johnston for eighteen years. He requires his students to memorize and identify several types of rocks in his course.

Mr. Mahoney, the Biology and Advanced Biology instructor, has also taught at Johnston for eighteen years. He enjoys working with the sophomores and enjoys teaching Biology because of the details. Mr. Mahoney is also the athletic director.

Mr. Partington has taught General Science, Physics, and Chemistry at Johnston for fifteen years. He is known for his pop quizzes.

Ah! The exciting world of computers — and a course where you can gain the knowledge of operating a computer and writing simple programs using basic computer language.

The class is taught by a very dedicated teacher, Mr. Lancaster. This is his thirty-third year teaching at Johnston. He remarked, "I think Johnston has changed a lot since I first came here. Great efforts have been made by the school and the community."

When he first started teaching here in 1953, Geometry was the highest level of math offered. Now Johnston High School offers higher level math classes such as Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry, Calculus, and Statistics.

Mr. Lancaster lives in Des Moines with his wife and two sons. When he is not teaching Math and Computer Programming, he enjoys fishing, hunting, golfing, chess and rebuilding cars and engines.

Judy Goshorn has been a teacher here at Johnston for five years. She teaches Typing I, II, III and IV. Her interests include Aerobics, reading, and volunteer work.

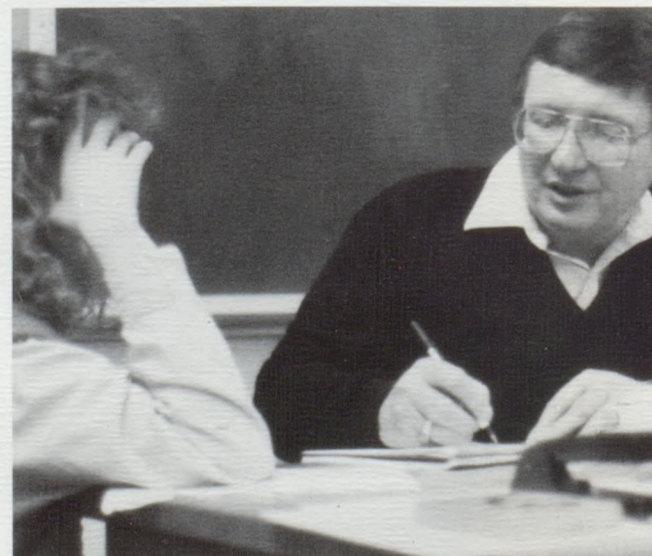

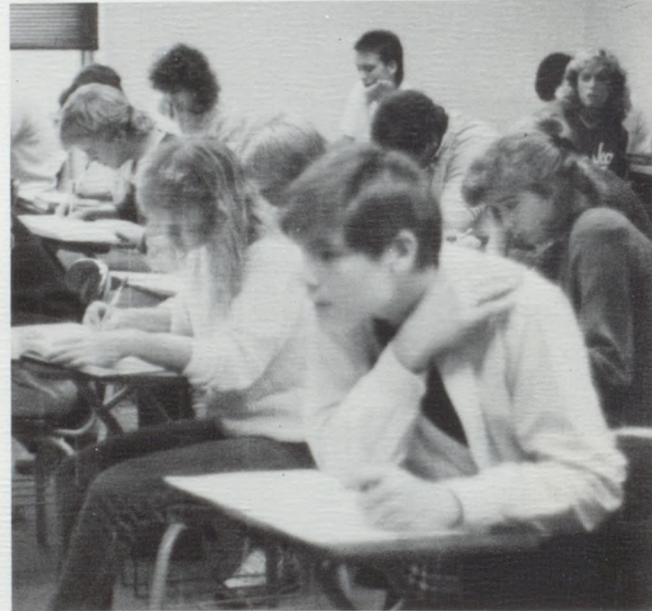

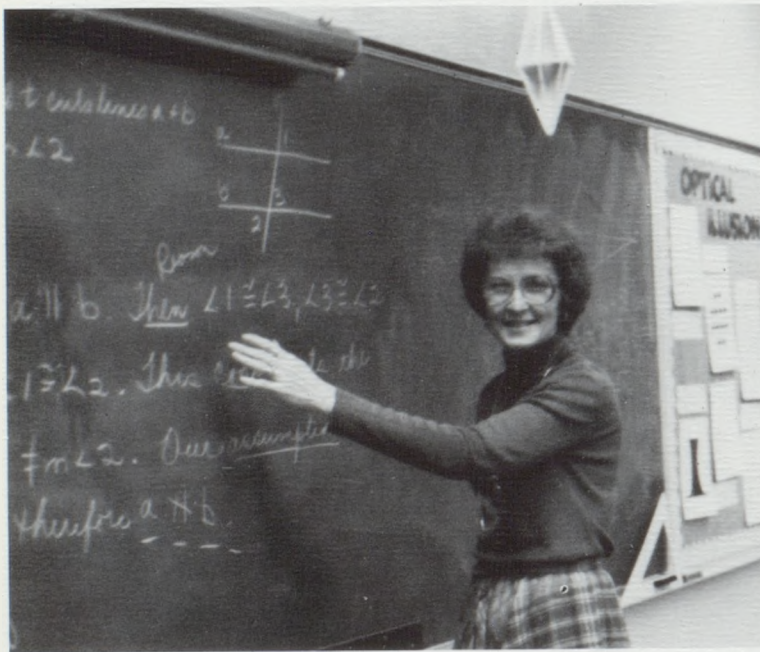

Color By Numbers

Mr. Lancaster has been with Johnston for thirty-three years. He reaches Topical Math, Calculus, Stochastic Trigonometry, and Analytical Geometry.

Mr. Gross has taught for eighteen years, and his class load was small this year. He taught Algebra and II.

Mrs. Van Farowe has only been at Johnston High School for three years. Her classes include Pre Algebra, Business Math and Geometry.

Upper right: Wake up Sandy Hudson!

Eat It!

Our Home Economics department this year is outstanding. Mrs. Lauen reaches Foods I and II, Sewing, Child Development, and Skills for Living. In Child Development Class each student carried an egg to represent a child. The students had the responsibility of caring for this egg as their own child. The class grade depended on the condition of the egg at the end of the week. Students were also required to go to Village Square Day Care to get a taste of what it is like to work with preschool children.

The Skills for Living class reaches students independence. They learn to manage money, how to purchase food, care for clothing, and search for a place to live. The students also learn how to get along well with other people. Sewing class is project oriented. Students follow certain requirements while creating what they want to. Thanksgiving and Christmas party preparations are two major projects in Foods I class. Foods II features a special eight week foreign food unit. Home Economics is a practical elective that any student can enjoy and learn from.

Upper right: Lee Cochran has always wanted to know what a turkey rump looks like.

Lower Left: Why do you have to stick your nose into everything, Tory Borhwell?

A Work of Art

Miss Hudacek, our new art teacher, really changed things around this year. She is more strict, but students feel that it is for their own benefit. She teaches Art I, Art II, Design, and Photo Art.

Art I is a general introductory class that familiarizes the student with various techniques and styles of art work.

Senior Tory Bothwell said, "Art I taught me some things I never knew I could do. When I first told my mom that I was going to take an art class, she laughed, but then when I brought home my still life project I laughed at her when I saw the look of shock on her face. She was really proud of me."

Lower left: Okay, Hi, Todd Woodsmall, you're not even in art.

Upper left: Miss Hudacek gives us the evil eye.

Middle left: We caught Jenny Fowler stealing the supplies again.

Upper right: Trina Cooney looks artistic.

Art II is a continuation of the areas studied in Art I. Sophomore Jenny Fowler said, "I like our freedom in the class. The projects are fun, and we get to work at our own pace."

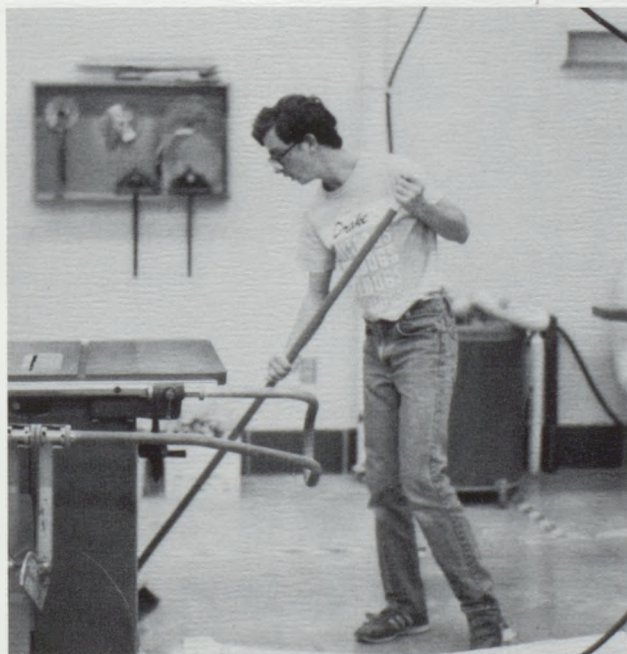

Design students work to increase their organization skills in art. They also learn how to be more personally inventive, expressive, and resourceful with the media involved. Some of the major projects completed this year were menu designs, calendars, and alphabet designs. Many of the students involved in Design developed a portfolio of their own work for future references.

This is Mr. Whitaker's third year at Johnston High School out of his ten year teaching career. He told the annual staff, "I'm very excited about this year at Johnston High School and the years to come." Mr. Whitaker's enthusiasm for working with students has also been shown through his coaching duties here at Johnston. It is also his third year for coaching Football, Wrestling and Track.

The classes that Mr. Whitaker teaches are Woods, Metals, Home Mechanics, Drafting, Materials and Processes, and Power Technology. The wide variety of courses has helped him build more flexibility into scheduling to accommodate the students and their interests. Mr. Whitaker's main concern while teaching these courses is having the student concentrate on the "processes of working toward the project" rather than on the "end result." Quality will then take care of itself.

Bottom: Clean up your mess, Larry.
Top: Mr. Whitaker, are you really an Industrial Arts teacher or a Soviet Spy?

Ain't That Tough Enough

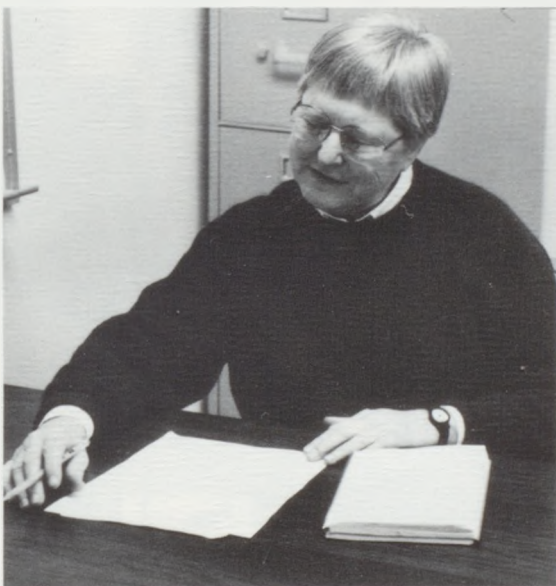

This year's Special Education and Pre-school Handicapped programs consisted of eight teachers and eight aids. In the Special Education department, there are four teachers. They are Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Pirzen, Ms. Carver, and Mrs. Shields. Their aids were Mrs. Kinsey and Mrs. Parsons.

The students involved in Special Education participated in courses ranging from Skills for Living to Science and Math. In addition to this students receive help with their homework from other classes.

In the Pre-school Handicapped department, the instructor is Andrea Crabb, and her aid is Rhonda Carpenter. They taught their students the basics to prepare them for reading, writing, and mathematics.

It's work as usual in the library. Students are working diligently on a variety of assignments.

Look around. What do you see? A vast panorama of resources ... magazines, books, encyclopedias.

This year marked the donation of a series of resource books by the P.T.O., ranging in topic from aging to youth, religion to ethnics.

Students found books and the study material to be much easier to find because of complete inventory of all books and the card catalog.

This was Mrs. Cranston's second year as being assistant librarian at Johnston. She commented "I enjoy the kids and I think the school spirit and the attitude is better this year. I think, overall, everything is on an upswing."

Mrs. Babcock has been the librarian here at Johnston since 1970. Before becoming librarian, she was an English teacher here.

Mrs. Babcock added "The phrase 'getting better everyday' really means a lot. People working together is really important."

The Sound of Silence

Left Bottom: What are you grinning about James Young?

This year's P.E. Classes were filled with a variety of fun activities. Miss Walling became our new instructor, replacing Mrs. Crawford. Mr. Strickler, who has been with Johnson for 16 years, is our other P.E. instructor. He said, "This is one of the best years I have had since I have been here." He thinks that this is due to Mr. Downs, the new principal, and the rest of the staff members. Mr. Strickler also feels that the student body is helping to make this year better. He told the annual staff, "The students have a much better attitude compared to last year."

We appreciate having both of these people teaching at Johnson, but we would especially like to thank Miss Walling for filling in this year.

Top right: Watch out, Fred and Ginger! Here comes Joani and Nacona dancing.

Top upper center: Gosh, Mr. Strickler, you're just soooo handsome.

Top lower center: Greg Stevenson, Alex Fulmer, and Mark Linde are the Johnson volleyball cheerleaders of the future.

Lower right: Miss Walling, you're such a stud!

Let's Get Physical

What's Cookin' Good Lookin'?

This year our school was fortunate enough to have a group of custodial engineers. This collaboration of cleaning and repair specialists are responsible for maintaining cleanliness, and keeping the many complicated machines in working condition.

When you think of a well balanced meal to keep you going on a long school day, you should automatically picture our women working in the kitchen. These chefs in our kitchen serve a wide variety of nutritious recipes. Without the long hours that these people put in, our school would not be the pleasant learning environment it is today.

Upper middle: The cooking team in action.

Lower middle: Tim is hard at work as usual.

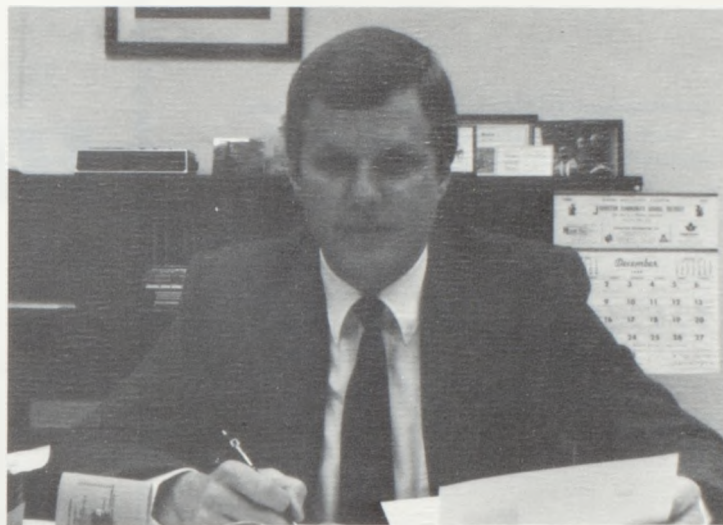

Bottom left: Today's skilled janitor, Jeff James is actually able to perform two tasks at once. This janitor sweeps the floor and replaces a damaged brick at the same time.

The New Wave

Johnston high hired many new people this past year including our new principal, Mr. Downs. Before becoming principal here, Mr. Downs was the vice-principal at Urbandale High School. His expectations for our school are high and he feels that we are truly capable of doing our very best.

Mr. Dale Doudna grew up in Des Moines and used to work at Bellvue Community Schools before coming to Johnston. He does a good job as our school counselor, keeping the classes straight and helping out with our problems.

Wave of 87

Our new secretary in the office is Mrs. Jan Strucki. She just moved to Johnston from Ogden, and she likes the students here.

Mrs. Nancy Smith is our final new member of Administration. She has lived in Johnston for 3 years and was happy to become our new school nurse. Mrs. Smith thinks that the students are nice and friendly and that it is a pleasure working here.

Concert choir

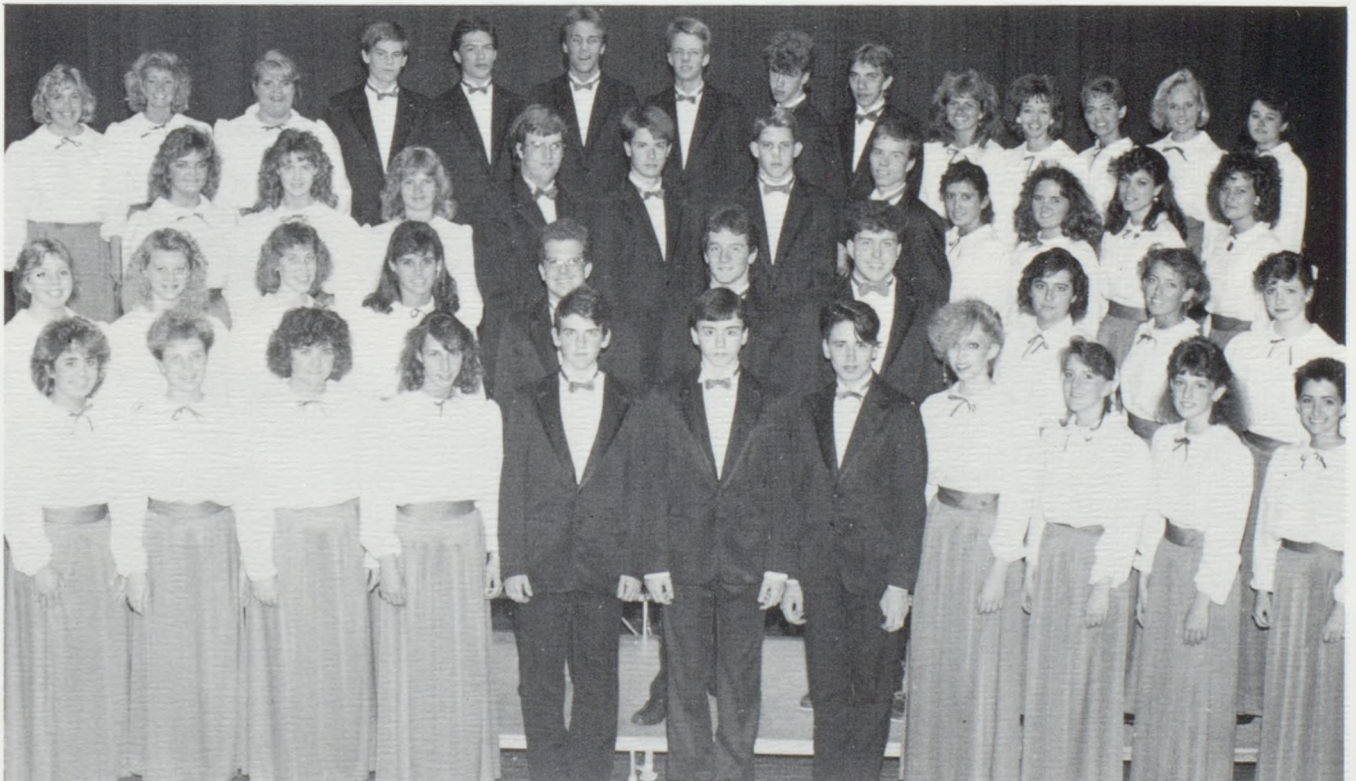

This year's CONCERT CHOIR was reported to have had the best sound of any previous Johnson Choir. The 48 member CONCERT CHOIR offered "Plenty Good Room," and "Swingin' with the Saints" at its first concert in October.

Ticket sales exceeded all previous records at the Johnson High Madrigal Dinner this year.

Without a rest, The CONCERT CHOIR began rehearsals on "At the Round Earth's Imagined Corners" and "The Eye's of All." These and other songs were taken to the State Group Contest where the CONCERT CHOIR received a "superior" rating.

The 100+ voiced JOHNSTON SR. HIGH CHORUS started the 1986-87 school year with "We've Got a Show for You." This upbeat concert found the group involved with choreography. A couple of CHORUS members found out that you can dance with two left feet.

The highlight of the CHORUS year was the "Disney Spectacular." This production featured every member in full Disney costume, choreography set to a 20 minute medley of Disney tunes. This show was billed as a children's concert (with no age limits!). The looks on the children's faces made all the hours and hours of practice worthwhile.

To show the group's versatility, the final concert of the year was on the formal side, featuring "Shepherd Me Lord," "Canzone Domino," and "O Praise the Lord with Heart and Voice."

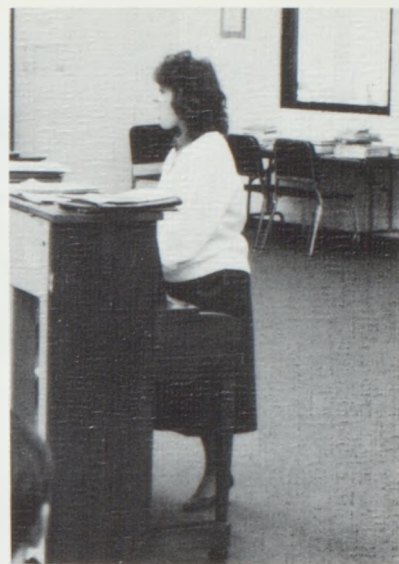

The CHORUS performance at Commencement was touching. They added a new song to the program "Look Ahead." CHORUS came through, once again, to help make Commencement a very memorable day!

It was a record year for the Madrigal dinner. The senior class set a goal to sell 200 tickers for the Wednesday night performance, which normally only has 160 people in attendance. The goal was met at 200 tickers exactly.

Among the throng of people at Wednesday night's performance was Chuck Offenberger. He did not write about us this year, but we hope he will next year. Mrs. White, director, stated, "I was pretty confident that this show would be a success. The student committees ended up meeting all of their deadlines."

Lower right: The royal court processes in. Don't Eric Suntken and Barb Peters make a good couple?

When members of the audience were asked about the dinner, many said that they were very pleased with the performance, and asked where the director was. Most of the people couldn't believe that the dinner was a total student production without any direction during the performance.

People who have attended the Madrigal Dinner before, including director, Mrs. White, said that this dinner was by far the best one yet.

The Beat Goes On

Swing Choir had a great year under the direction of Jody White. Autumn brought the sixteen members their new outfits, burgundy sequined blouses and black satin skirts for the ladies and black ruxedos with burgundy cummerbund and ties for the guys. It also brought their first concert. They performed songs like Parade of the Wooden Soldiers and Putting It Together. Their contest season began in Winter and the most select singers and dancers from Johnston High performed their best and with their "contest ser": Break- away, On The Sunny Side Of The Street, Song For The Asking, The Beat Goes On and their infamous novelty number The Sleigh they received superior ratings everywhere they went. They placed first at the Urbandale Swing Choir competition and the Midlands Jazz/Swing Choir competition in Nebraska.

Spring means the Swing Choir Show, one of the best parts of being in Swing Choir. The show was called "Breakaway to Big Time" because of their opener Breakaway and the traditional light show which was choreographed to Peter Gabriel's Big Time. That night was very emotional for all members and especially for the ten departing seniors: Barb Baker, Steve Berz, Jill Friestad, Crystal Keown, Donnie Lersch, Tom Lord, Barb Peters, Jenni Roskam, Keri Stokstad and Eric Sunken.

Wherever Swing Choir's reasons for success they made this year one of the best and will be a hard act to follow.

The 1986-87 SOUND ADVICE was the largest the group had even been ... 35 almost-always-melodious voices!

SOUND ADVICE performed at several contests during the year: on the state level, they sang their way to an "Excellent" rating; in February, they competed in the McDonald's Swing Choir Jam-boree at Urbandale High School bringing home valuable contest experience. February also found the group in Cedar Rapids for the Jefferson Swing Choir Contest. The many, many hours of practice and the group's enthusiasm helped to bring back a 3rd Place standing in their division.

SOUND ADVICE performed at 3 concerts for the home crowd.

SWING CHOIR extended an invitation to SOUND ADVICE for the May 9th SWING CHOIR SHOW. This annual program gave SOUND ADVICE the opportunity to perform themselves in addition to being on stage with SWING CHOIR and the Alumni in the traditional "What Would I Do Without My Music?"

Rock Me Amadeus

Rock Me Amadeus, — A pop song from the recent past, could be similar to what the Johnston High Concert Band could find themselves playing, along with standard band literature, Broadway musicals, and marches. How's that for variety? The band had two home concerts, a contest in May, and a chance to play at Marriot's Great America in Gurnee, Illinois. The band members enjoyed three nights in the famous windy city, Chicago.

Mr. Albrecht, band director said, "I believe that if I pick material that is hard enough for rehearsals, we can cover a lot that would be on top of what I reach in the individual lessons." Mr. Albrecht also enjoys this year much more, and is proud of the way the band members handle the difficult music.

Step By Step

A home football game just wouldn't be the same without the Johnston High School Band to rev up the spirit.

Marching Band isn't an easy job though. Practice starts at 7:30 a.m. and then goes through first hour class. Waking up to the sounds of trumpets couldn't be for everyone but marching band worked hard to make this year a successful one.

Julie Hanson and Angie Alison led the band this year while Corrie Chatterton twirled her baton to the beat adding some extra class to the band performances. Chris Sten also twirled with the marching band. Rick Albrecht was their fearless band leader who also had to rise early in the morning to keep the band moving.

Give Me Three Steps

Flag corp is a very welcomed aspect of Marching Band. Band director, Mr. Albrecht said, "After many years I am pleased that Flag Corp is back because it adds to the visual effect of the marching band."

Flag girl auditions are held each year to fill in the gaps left by graduated seniors. Once elected, flag girls are in the corp until they graduate. This works well since new flag members will pick up maneuvers quickly from veteran flag corp members. Flag corp members work very hard. They are out at 7:30 a.m. with the Marching Band, and sometimes must practice without the band. The uniforms are provided by the school, except for the boots, and there is a possibility of a new proposal which will allow the flag corp to go on the band trip.

Flag Corp went very well this year, and Mr. Albrecht is looking forward to the next year's corps.

All That Jazz

Jazz Band is an elite group of musicians consisting of five trumpets, five saxophones, one tuba, two percussionists, four trombones, and one bass.

The music played by the Jazz Band is from a variety of composers. Usually a concert consists of a mixture of rock and swing tunes with a ballad. The band goes to six different competitions during a year to show their stuff. The competitions include: Sciba, IHSMA, Earlham, Central College, Hoover, and Music In the Parks, which is a jazz festival in Chicago that they attend in the spring. At these competitions they have had some outstanding student soloists. These soloists were: Mark Piner on sax, Tom Lord on trombone, David Paez on trumpet, and Scott Grimes on trumpet.

The Johnson High School Jazz Band, directed by Mr. Albrecht, has much to be proud of.

Let's Get Excited

This was the first time in 10 years that Johnston High School had a Pep Club. In May of 1986, Penny Nichols with the help of parent sponsors (Jaye Good and Dolores Nichols) began organizing and gaining support, through the Booster Club, to start a Pep Club. They were financially supported by the Booster Club before the school year ended. This allowed them to start fund raisers during the summer.

The summer's activities included: the selling of carnival tickets for the Johnston Fun Fest!!!, and a car wash in the Hy-vee parking lot.

Due to these fund raisers Pep Club was able to purchase sweatshirts for their 60 members. Pep Club decided to run on the representatives system for each class the representative for the class of '87 was Dawn Debensee. The class of '88 representative was Mike Adams. The class of '89 representative was Penny Nichols. The class of '90 representative was Sarah Downs.

Pep Club did many exciting things this year, some decorating the school for Homecoming, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. Also at Christmas Pep Club sold Carnations which Santa Claus (Mr. Freistad) helped deliver. Pep Club all in all had a great year and is looking forward to the future.

The cheerleaders were full of spirit this year. Cheerleader Wendy Hansen said, "It's radical! I love cheerleading! I think all the early morning practices paid off with the fun we had. I think we help inspire the team and help keep their spirits up. I'm really glad that I got the chance to cheer for such great teams." The captains were: Wendy Madole, varsity football; Jill Friestad, varsity basketball; Kelly McKenzie, varsity wrestling; Alison Johnson, JV basketball; Cassy Thompson, JV football; and Rayom Comer, JV wrestling. Football player Jeff Mirchum commented, "The cheerleaders bring spirit to the crowd and the crowd gives spirit to the team."

Cheerleading sponsor, Jayette Good commented, "The cheerleaders at Johnston High spend many hours promoting school spirit, making signs for the school, decorating lockers, and having fund raisers."

Thanks to the cheerleaders many pep buses were organized for "away" games. They also sponsored dances and even a fashion show to raise money for new uniforms.

DON'T DRIVE DRUNK

S.A.D.D. stands for Students Against Drunk Driving. The purpose of this organization is to prevent people from driving drunk. Anyone can be a member by participating in the meetings and projects. SADD has sponsored several school dances, sold doughnuts and flowers, and given out "Contracts For Life". These contracts are between the student and the parent, and state that neither one will drive after drinking.

Mr. Pirz has been head of this organization for two years. He told the annual staff, "I am personally involved because I am a recovering alcoholic. In all the years that I drank, I should have been picked up about 100 times, but I wasn't. I just wanted to prevent others from doing the same thing. Part of my recovery is my service to others. What I give, I receive. This is what makes me feel strongly about this organization."

This year these people were elected as officers: President, Rhonda Muehlenthaler; Vice-president, Greg Young; Treasurer, Scott Grimes; Secretary, Cindy Jeffries.

*Some think it's cool
To break the rules
They say it's fine
To drink and drive
Innocent, guilty,
All world wide
Because of this —
Have lost their lives.*

Stairway to Heaven

F.C.A. stands for Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Mr. Whitaker and Mr. Oldham with Johnston High School Athletes and students in other activities by sponsoring F.C.A. The group meets regularly during the school year which allows students to share life and faith around the bonds of sports and activities. Coaches and students build solid relationships throughout the year through this organization.

Mr. Oldham said, "We watched several films during the year. Many of these films gave us inspiration to believe that we can achieve almost anything if we set goals and strive to reach for them."

The seniors included: Larry Barrani, Steve Berz, Rod Collins, Julie Hanson, Barb Peters, Jenni Roskam, Kierstin Scharnberg, Coby Shank, Doug Strouenberg, Vince Tromerer, Rayci Tull, Eric Wilson and Todd Woodsmall.

Dazed and Confused

This year's Johnston student government was loaded with creative leaders who were overflowing with many interesting ideas. The Student Council was able to get many things accomplished this year, such as beginning a school newsletter and making Homecoming one of the most memorable in the history of Johnston. Driven under the leadership of Student Council president, Todd Woodsmall, the enthusiastic group made this year a landmark year under the supervision of a new counselor and principal.

The freshmen officers were: Brian Smith, president; Eric Oiler, vice president; Heidi Annable, secretary. The sophomore officers were: Darren Young, president; Cathy Jeffries, vice president; Jason Barrani, secretary. The junior officers were: Chad Johnson, president; Brent Rankin, vice president; Mark Casey, secretary. The senior officers were: Coby Shank, president; Mark Grief, secretary; Keri Stokstad, secretary. Let us not forget the imperious leader, Todd Woodsmall, and the new student council sponsor, Dale Doudna. Much was accomplished this year and we all enjoyed ourselves.

Dragons Hit the Top Ten

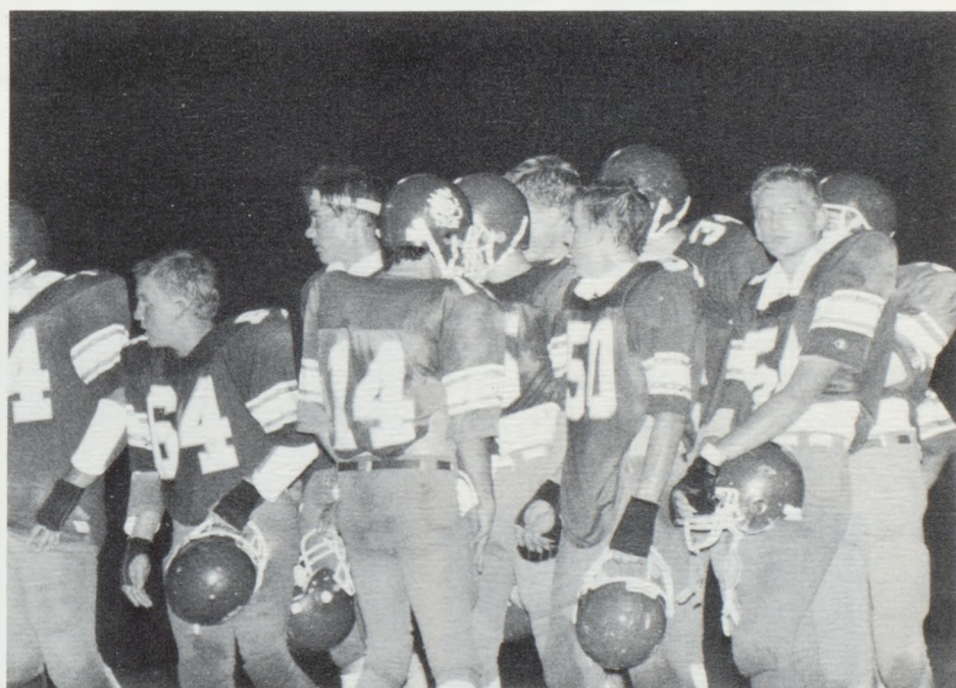

Our football team was really great this year. Even though our ratio was three and five, the guys still played great games. After being picked to finish last in conference, we made sixth.

The senior players were: Rod Collins, Scott Dougherty, Troy Kidd, Jon Loos, Curt Phelps, Scott Phipps, Brian Quick, the captains were: Coby Shank, Eric Wilson, and Greg Young.

Mr. Sypniewski may have coached them hard with the help of Wyatt Pugh and Ralph Young, but it paid off.

Coby Shank made first all-conference and was voted most valuable player. Scott Dougherty was voted best defensive player and Cale Sponselor was the best offensive player. Jason Conway, Dave DeCook, Alan Hartman, and Cale Sponselor all received honorable mentions:

Greg and Coby said they had a lot of fun and that it really went fast for them. Eric mentioned that "the team is very hard-working and will be extremely tough to beat next year!"

This year's Cross Country team was made up of six people, five of which were sophomores and one was a junior. Coach Strickler told the annual staff, "We have a good, young team this year. I'm looking forward to the next couple of years since these same kids will be returning."

Greg Ojendyk and Chad Johnson were the captains, and they did very well along with the rest of the team. Anne Patterson was the only girl on the team, and she kept up a good attitude during the season. Greg Ojendyk never placed any lower than fourth place at a meet, and was always in the top group.

This year, before the Homecoming game, the cross country team ran the football from Ballard to Johnston which is about 22 miles. Greg Ojendyk ran the whole way, Chad Johnson ran all but two miles and everyone else took turns running, averaging a distance of thirteen to fifteen miles.

Johnston had a cross country team that was full of dedication and talent this year, placing third in the conference. Next year's team should be just as good if not better.

The Urbandale-Johnston swim team's 1986-87 record was six wins, four losses, boys; five wins-three losses, one contested, girls.

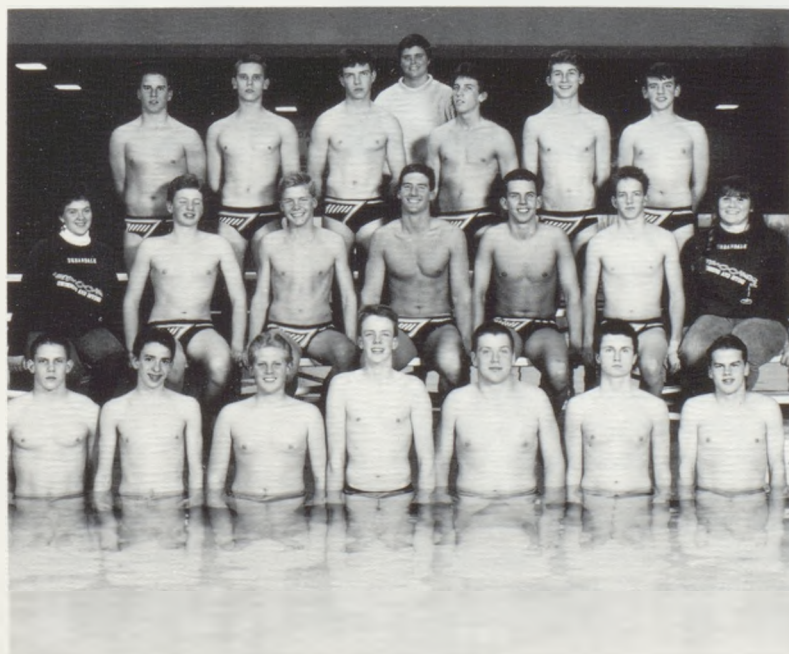

The Johnston swimmers were John Loos, Mike Adams, Joel Goodman, Mark Merrrens, Neil Wecker, Marr Baker, Todd Grantham, Josh Hetherington, Brad Kreamer, Eric Sunde, and Bernie Timmerman. The only girl swimmer from Johnston was Julie Hanson.

For most of the guys it was their first year in swimming, so next year is expected to be better. The state meet qualifiers were Julie Hanson and Mark Merrrens. Mark took 8th place in the state meet, and Julie took 5th place in the 200 freestyle and 4th place in the 500 freestyle. Julie Hanson has been on the team all four years of high school. She was also voted as the team's most valuable person each of those four years. Julie holds almost three fourths of the school's records, and she took first place in almost all of the meets that she participated in this year. The team will really miss Julie next year.

Shoot it up

The varsity Boy's Basketball team ended the season with a 7-14 record. Considering the young, inexperienced team members, they did pretty well. One returning letterman was Coby Shank, who made an excellent team leader. Coby was NDP special mention all conference and second leg for rebounding.

Another outstanding player this year was Troy Wade. Wade was one of the leading scorers, rebound and assist person. He also made second all conference.

Chris Bertrand, David Smith and Scott Massen made honorable mention all conference along with top scorer and rebounding. Coach Wicks sees good things in the future for Boy's Basketball at Johnston. There will be five returning letterman for varsity and JV basketball should have a good future. Mr. Wicks feels that there is much potential to be found in next year's freshmen and sophomore players.

One on One

The girls basketball team of 1986 and 1987 was a great improvement from previous years' teams.

The Varsity team consisted of 12 players. The coach was Mr. Bill Miller. This was his second year to coach the Johnston Varsity team. There was, however, a new assistant coach, Miss Laurie Hudecek. Teresa Budd was the student manager. She spent a lot of time helping the team.

The Junior Varsity team consisted of 9 players. The coach was Miss Laurie Hudecek. This was her first year as coach, also. Her goal was to prepare every player for the Varsity team. Teresa Budd was the student manager for this team, also.

This year's Freshman team consisted of 10 players. The coach for their team was Mrs. Villotti. This was her first year, also. She worked well with the students at preparing them for the J.V. and Varsity teams. The student managers for this team were Leannah Moore, Hillari Knaphus, and Jenny Steinbruck.

She's A Little Runaway

The girl's track team was very young with only three seniors and three juniors on the team. One half of the team was made up of ninth graders and others participating in track for the first time. We were very successful in the sprint relays, and in the high and low jump.

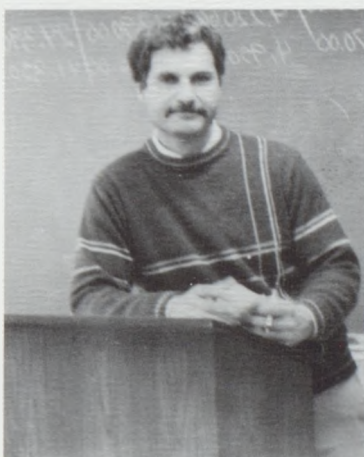

We made improvements in the shot and discus. The distance runners improved all year long too. The hurdlers did a great job all year and two of them will be returning next season. All things considered, it was a successful season and most of the team will be returning next year.

Breaking Away

The 86-87 boys' and girls' golf teams had an exciting and competitive year. The boys' golf team was led by Coach Frank Sanders and assisted by Coach John Carver who also coached the girls' team.

The boys' team was expected to do well this year. Coach Sanders had high hopes for his young team, and they didn't let him down. Some key players were: Eric Wilson, Kenny Tjaden, Jeff Cortney, and Scott Maasen.

The girls' team was led also by their team captain and 4 time letter winner Jill Friestad. Another good player was a newcomer Angie Thompson. According to Coach Carver this year marks the best turnout ever for participation golf. The girls' and boys' home course was Jester Park. The 86-87 girls' and boys' golf team made Johnston Fans proud.

Jill Friestad was named most valuable golfer by coach John Carver. This has been a fantastic year for Johnston's lady Dragon golfer, Jill Friestad. Her accomplishments this year include winning medalist honors at the Heart of Iowa Conference Meet, Sectional Runner-up and she was a medalist in the regional competition. Her regional medalist victory qualified Jill for the state tournament which was held in Spencer, Iowa. Jill was a four year letter winner in Golf, and will be missed by the team.

This year Scott Carpenter, Charles Nelson, Alan Pook, Bernie Timmerman, and Matt Scott were the Johnston members of the Urbandale boy's tennis team. Most of them played on varsity which had a 3-8 season and placed fourth as a team at sectionals this year.

Kirk Trow has been their coach for two years now. "He's an interesting guy and always makes practices fun," says Alan Pook.

Scott and Charles are seniors this year, Alan and Bernie are sophomores and Matt is a freshman.

"Even though the statistics don't look encouraging we had a really good year in individual stats," says Coach Trow, "what the team really needs is a few more fans to cheer us on."

Grace Under Pressure

Every member of the girl's tennis team improved this year under coach Wyatt Pugh's instruction.

The freshman were, Amy Anderson, Cara Brown, Heidee Grimes, Erin McDonald, and Stacey Vanderhart.

Molly Ahern, Sharon Lindstrom, Laurie Papenheim, and Kim Lundy were the sophomore players. Molly was co-captain and number two on the team. She was undefeated in singles and also got to the quarter finals at sectionals.

"Deb Welsh was rough in singles and doubles. She and Sharon played very well together," said coach Pugh. This was Kelly Huggins' first year playing competitive tennis.

According to Mr. Pugh, Keri Srokstad played number one this year and was also a co-captain. She ended up with a 3-3 season and was second at sectionals." Julie Hanson also contributed much to the team. The team's season ended with four wins and eight losses.

The 1986 boys' baseball team had a good season. They ended the year with an 18-8 record. In the Heart of Iowa Conference they finished with a 13-1 record and were the Heart of Iowa Champions.

They were beaten only by Pella Christian School, 9-7, in the first game of districts. Pella Christian went on to finish second in the state.

Joel Johnson, Todd Cory, Mike Lang, and Todd Neumann were named to fourth team all-state. The team lost fourteen seniors but have three varsity players returning.

Softball

This year's softball coaches were Cindy Johnson and Carrie Charley. Cindy Johnson coached varsity softball. One varsity player commented, "The team gets better each year with the help of young, new talent."

Carrie Charley was the coach of J.V. softball. Their best game of the season was against Ballard. Charley claimed it was a "fun game" for everyone. The team's most difficult opponent was Rolling Story because the team had a lot of injuries right before the game. Charley said that the team was better this year. The new baseball diamond contributed to the team's positive attitude. All in all, the softball team has been improving every year. Let's hope next year's team will be just as good with the new softball coach.

This year's soccer team started off on the right foot, coached by Mr. Harswick. The assistant coach was Jim "Wanda" Wandro. Manager Jennifer Wilkinson had a "ball" working with the team.

Charles Wilkinson really "socked it to em" while he lettered as an eighth grader on the varsity soccer team. The teams scoring leaders were Adam Keller, who scored 8 and Mike Warne who scored 3. The team assistant leaders were Rich Dunn — 3, Mike Warne — 2, and Zac Dierer — 2.

This year's volleyball team was outstanding, even though their record was three conference wins out of eight. The head coach was Mr. Dale Smith, the assistant coach was Miss Laurie Hudecek.

Heidi Annable was one of the recognizable players, as she made the varsity team in her freshman year. She was the only freshman to make the varsity team, but many others did join the JV team. We look forward to having them all back next year.

However we also want to say goodbye to the seniors. They were also a big asset to the team and will be missed a bunch, especially by their fellow players.

We also would like to thank the Urbandale players who were on our team also. They are also a big part of our team.

PROM
PLAY

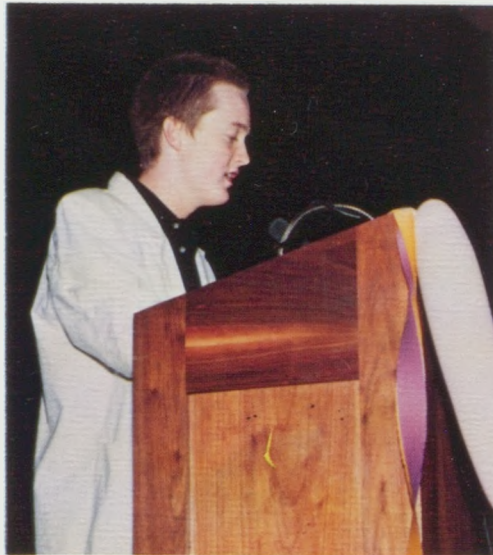

The Homecoming Coronation Ceremony was held on Friday, October 10, 1986, at 9:00 p.m. Todd Woodsmall, President of the Student Council, began the orientation with a short speech. The attendants were then announced. The freshmen attendants were Cindy Bertrand and Brian Smith. This year's combination of attendants was a first for the sophomore class. They had three attendants: Kim Lundy, David Gomis, and Scott Maasen. The junior attendants were Mindy Webb and Cale Sponsler. The Queen and King candidates were Jill Friesrad, Kent Alexander, Paul Galloway, Erika Espe, Coby Shank, Lizette Wiegman, Jeff Shipley, and Eric Wilson.

Finally, that special moment came, the candidates were silent. Jill Friesrad and Coby Shank were crowned as the 1986-87 Homecoming Queen and King.

OUR TRUE COLORS

This year's homecoming was kicked off on a cold Monday, but the J.H.S. students showed their school spirit by wearing grass skirts and shades for "Hawaiian Day." Tuesday's "Western Day" was a first at Johnston High, and it was well accepted.

For Wednesday's "Crazy Clothes Day," everyone wore lots of Mom and Dad's old clothes and shoes, and just about anything that didn't match.

Thursday's "Punk Rock Day" was another first at J.H.S. People colored their hair, wore weird make-up, and outrageous clothing. Finally, Friday arrived, which was the traditional "Purple and Gold Day," and the night of the big game.

Girls Just Want To Have Fun

The 1986 Johnston Homecoming was accompanied by one of many fine traditions: the girl's "Powder Puff" football game. In this game, a team of foolishly brave freshmen and sophomores challenged the experienced junior and senior team. The underclassmen received only a few minor injuries as they fought desperately to win.

They even resorted to sending in guys off the REAL football team dressed up as girls, but these attempts were useless. The junior-senior team easily went on to win the game, 22 to 0!

Middle right: Dorb Peters has the spirit, but what about you, Keri Stokstad? Bottom left: Jenny Fowler relaxes before the big game and her debut as the freshman-sophomore quarterback.

On October 10, 1986, the Dragons beat the Ballard Bombers 9 to 7. The Johnston Dragons were in rare form that night this being their first win of the season.

The weather was chilly that night but it didn't stop the Dragon Fans one bit. Everyone admitted it was one of the best games of the season.

The Johnston Marching Band and the Flag Corp did an excellent job with their half-time performance.

It had been one of the best weeks and it wasn't even over. There was still a DANCE!

VICTORY ...

Dancing On The Ceiling

The Johnson Homecoming Dance was held on October 11, 1986, from 8:30 to 11:30. The Student Council provided the decorations and refreshments. Their president Todd Woodsmall was there to dance with anyone who didn't have a date. There were quite a few people who came in groups of friends, but the couples still overruled. Everyone had a great time and were sad when 11:30 rolled around.

"For Just a Moment" was an appropriate theme for this year's prom because the Botanical Center was transformed into a paradise for just a moment on April 11th. The beautiful silver and pink decorations done by the Prom Committee and the ruffles and gowns worn by the students helped to create the romantic and elegant atmosphere.

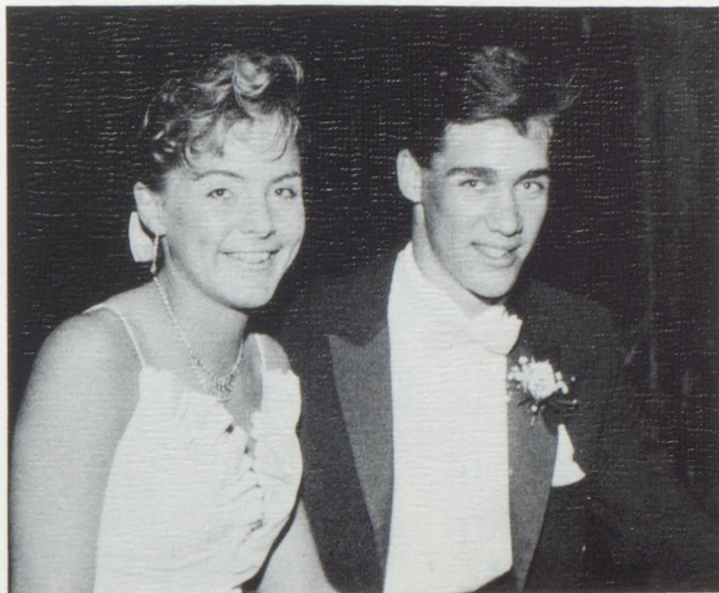

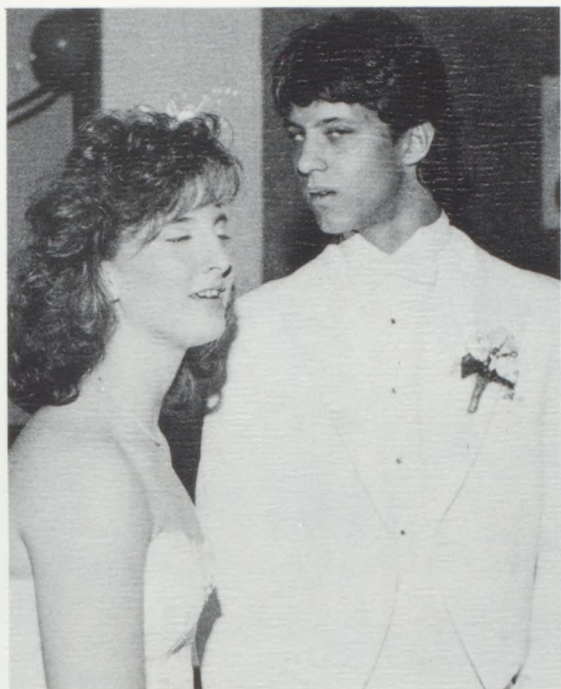

The prom started at nine and during that time one could dance to popular music done by a DJ, get pictures taken and walk among the flowering plants of the Botanical Gardens. It was a special time for seniors. At the slide presentation they were able to recall memories of their childhood as they saw slides of baby pictures, and read their four year old time capsules.

Some attended the after prom party at one o'clock. The student center was transformed into Las Vegas for a night, and everyone got chances to win anything from a CD player, like Val Wolfe did, to a hundred dollars, like Jenni Strand, by buying raffle tickets with play money won at various games.

Everyone seemed to appreciate the effort put forth by parents, the junior class and especially Mrs. Lauen for making this year's prom a moment that will never be forgotten.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was performed on Tuesday, April 7th.

The play is about the Brewster family and the insanity that runs in it. Martha (Shelaine Harbarr) and Abby Brewster (Erika Espe) murder old men so they "won't be lonely anymore." Their good intentions work until their nephew, Mortimer, (Steve Berz) finds out about the murders. He tries to blame the murders on his strange brother, Teddy, (Todd Woodsmall), who has convinced himself that he is Teddy Roosevelt. Mortimer later encounters his criminally insane and long lost brother, Jonathan (Paul Galloway) who escaped from prison with a plastic surgeon, Dr. Einstein (Brad Piner). The not-so-holy minister's daughter, Elaine Harper (Keri Srokstad) tries to divert her fiancé, Mortimer's, attention throughout the play, but fails, as does the playwright turned policeman, Officer O'Hara (Jennifer Wilkinson). In the end the cops: Klein (Todd Hartle), Brophy (Troy Wade) and Lieutenant Rooney (Zac Dieter) nab Jonathan for the murders. Martha, Teddy and Abby go to a sanatorium run by Mr. Witherspoon (Eric Suntken) and Elaine and Mortimer supposedly live happily ever after with the blessing of Elaine's father.

Top: The cast is showing off their acting abilities.

Middle: Mort is getting down to business.

Lower right: Klein, Brophy and Rev. Harper are "solving world problems".

The "little eighth graders" made it to high school. The freshman class this year does have a few qualities worth mentioning. One important quality is the abundance of good athletes. Matt Duckworth is one of these athletes. He participated in football and wrestling while still making the honor roll.

Jeremy Bro is a unique ninth grader who enjoys going to Tempraions and playing bass guitar. He fits in well with the sophomores as well as the freshman class.

FRESHMEN

Heidi Annable is a very talented freshman "woman". She managed to make varsity volleyball, and be involved in Concert Choir, Sound Advice, and student council. That sounds like a handful, but Heidi knows how to manage her time.

Of this year's freshmen each had something unique about them. We only wish that we had more space to write about every single one of them.

Freshmen

The freshman class is a class of many talents which range from wrestling to modeling. Let's start with wrestling. There are lots of freshmen in wrestling. They are Chuck Budd, Matt Duckworth, Steve Juhlin, Keith Lee, Kevin Ranger, Troy Langos, Ed Van-Dorn, and Eric Oiler. But Kevin Ranger is the star of this group. He made the varsity squad in the 98 lbs. group.

Also the freshman class is talented in music. Over 60% are in chorus or band. Toni Allison and Jon Lewis both had solos in the Disney Spectacular Show. Bernie Timmerman, Brad Hartman, and Tara Keltner made Jazz Band this year. This is a great honor for freshmen.

Jodey Porter is another talented freshman. Her talent is modeling. Jodey takes class at Barbizon's. Jodey was also the star of the Johnson High School Cheerleaders' Style Show. Jodey is looking at a possible career in Modeling. GOOD LUCK!!!!!!

A DAY IN THE LIFE

A DAY IN THE LIFE — The class of '89 is filled with spunk, so to say. Most students take pride in doing their best realizing that their future depends on it. Although they tried to get the most out of their days at Johnston High School.

Trina Cooney is a fun student to be around though she does take school in a serious manner. Trina has her schedule planned out so that she will be able to graduate early. She admits that having a double schedule is often difficult but she wants to have time to travel before she continues on into college.

With a more laid back approach to life in general, we go to Davey Gomis. He is an ideal student and does well in his classes. He also has done very well this past year, making varsity football, wrestling, and track. He plans on going to college and getting into the field of engineering possibly. For this reason, he hopes for a scholarship. When asked about how he feels about high school, he replied by saying, "I feel that high school should be a fond memory full of good times. After this you're hit with a bunch of responsibility ... rake it easy."

Steve Thompson is another sophomore that you may find wandering the infamous walls of Johnston High. Steve has attended Johnston schools all of his life. He told the staff, "I'm an under-achiever and this school is too hard for me." Steve is also known for his jokes. Steve has played club soccer for almost seven years in Johnston. This winter was his first season playing on an indoor soccer team. He also participates on the Johnston High School soccer team. Thompson claims that he doesn't have any other hobbies or interests. Steve added, "When words are no better than silence, one should keep quiet." Steve picked up these words of wisdom from the first episode of Kung Fu.

When thinking about unique sophomores, Brad Piner should instantly come to mind. Brad has had the courage to express and expose his true self at school and wherever he goes. He has a wide variety of friends, and he participates in Band, Swing Choir, and Concert Choir. His favorite pastimes include listening to music such as Howard Jones, Depeche Mode, and the B-52's. Brad also enjoys making music on his synthesizer, and writing lyrics and poems. Brad is very talented, and is sure to achieve his future plans and goals.

This year was the first year since 1981 that Johnston High School has had a Pep Club. The driving force behind this year's Pep Club and its sophomore representative is its founder, Penny Nichols.

Penny first got the idea for starting a Pep Club last year and petitioned the School Board, getting 150 signatures.

When asked what she thinks of the Pep Club this year, she answered, "This year's Pep Club is great! I'm really excited and I hope that it lasts for a long time!!"

One of our outstanding upperclassmen is Eric Hines. This man is one talented athlete. He plays football, wrestles, and skis in his spare time. He also took a vacation to Colorado and stayed in a condo. Eric plans next year to go to state in wrestling and pick up a scholarship at the University of Iowa.

Angie Allison is another outstanding junior. She is very talented in the music department. Angie has performed a solo and she sang in a trio at Johnston High School. She has also sung a solo for the Madrigal Dinner every year. This year Angie was publisher chairman for the Madrigal Dinner, and did a good job of making sure everyone knew about the event.

Nothin's Gonna Stop Us Now

It's been twelve long years and we've all worked hard to get here. Many of us have shared the best of times and the worst with each other.

During our Freshman year, 1987 looked so far off that we wondered if we would ever make it. Those seniors looked so old! We were just trying to adjust to being the youngest in the school again. Remember feeling so humiliated at our first pep assembly, 80-80-80-80-80- what? Our weekends consisted of piling into our parents' cars and going to Circus or Nickelodeon.

Then we became sophomores. Upper-lower classmen? What sounds dumb now sounded pretty good then. No more pushing pennies or feeling like babies. Learning to drive was a highlight of that year, especially for those who got 300zxs for their birthdays.

It was time for parties, driving fast, and not worrying about the future.

Our junior year arrived much too slowly. Some of us were starting to make lasting impressions on the school, Varsity sports, cheerleading, Jazz band, Swing Choir, National Honor Society, and all the other organizations we worked our way into.

It was a year destined for fun. We weren't the oldest and didn't have to act that way. "I'll see you behind the Beltron" was a popular phrase.

As our senior year began, we saw the phrase "Getting Better Every Day." This year brought many changes for the students of Johnston. A new principal, counselor, and even a few new teachers helped us develop a little more pride in our school.

For us seniors, we had to straighten up on grades, worry about scholarships and cry over last homecomings and proms.

Nowhere else will it be like it's been here at Johnston High.

Stay For Awhile

words and music by Michael W. Smith, Amy Grant and Wayne Kirkpatrick.

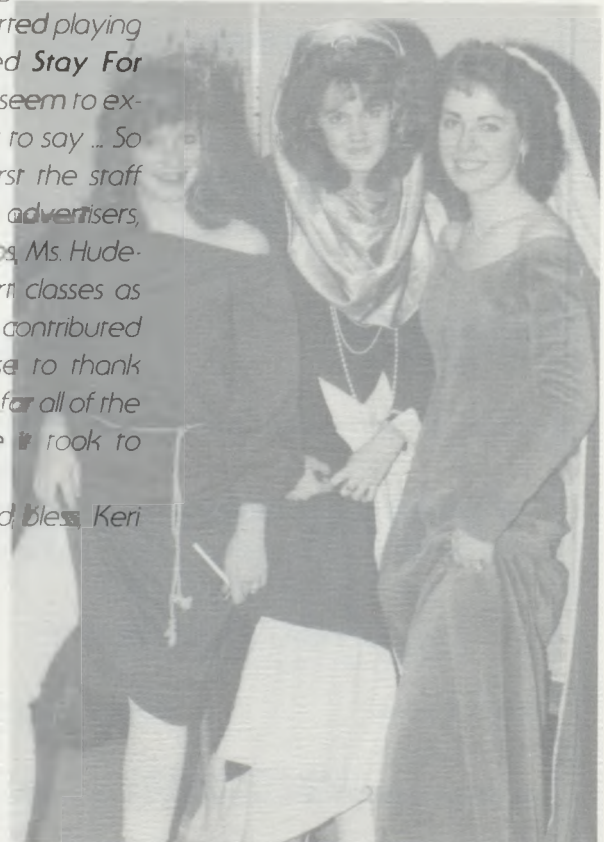

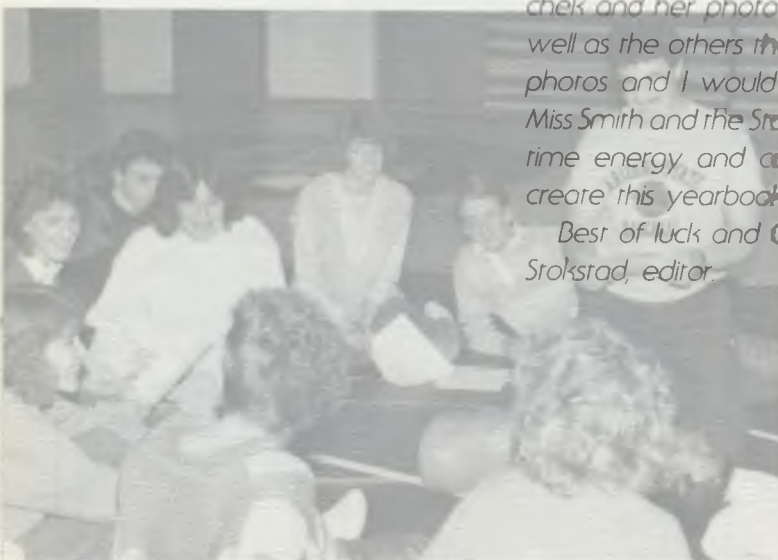

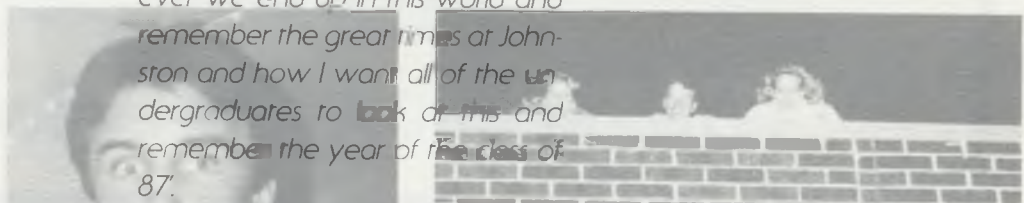

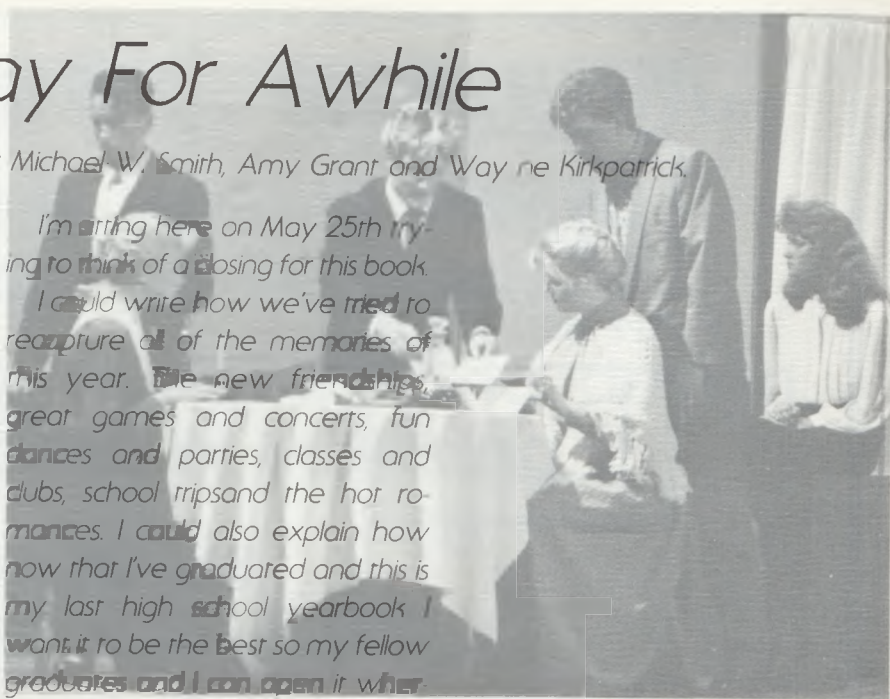

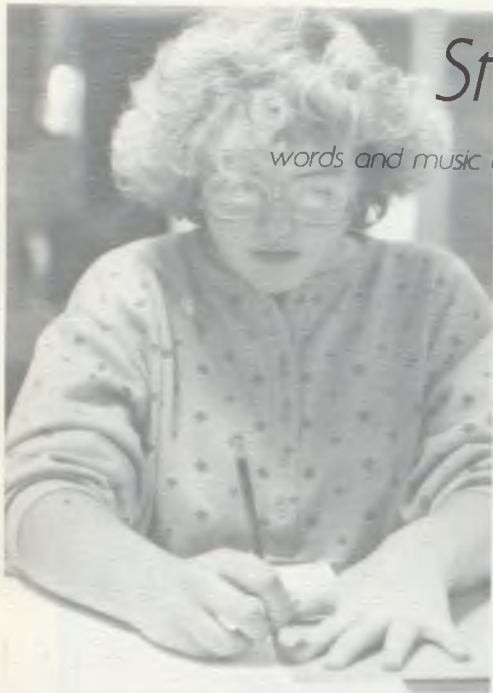

I'm sitting here on May 25th trying to think of a closing for this book.

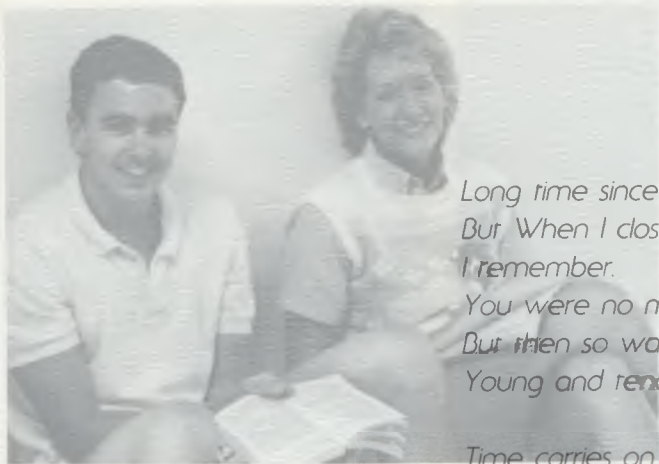

I could write how we've tried to recapture all of the memories of this year. The new friendships, great games and concerts, fun dances and parties, classes and clubs, school trips and the hot romances. I could also explain how now that I've graduated and this is my last high school yearbook I want it to be the best so my fellow graduates and I can open it whenever we end up in this world and remember the great times at Johnson and how I want all of the undergraduates to look at this and remember the year of the class of '87.

While I was pondering all of this a song by Amy Grant started playing on the stereo. It's called Stay For Awhile and the words seem to explain everything I want to say ... So here they are ... But first the staff would like to thank: the advertisers, Hart Jones, Walz Studios, Ms. Hudechek and her photo art classes as well as the others that contributed photos and I would like to thank Miss Smith and the Staff for all of the time energy and care it took to create this yearbook.

Best of luck and God bless Keri Sroksrad, editor.

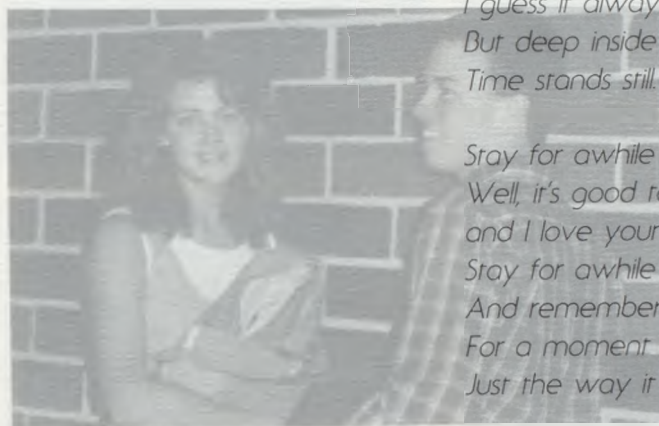

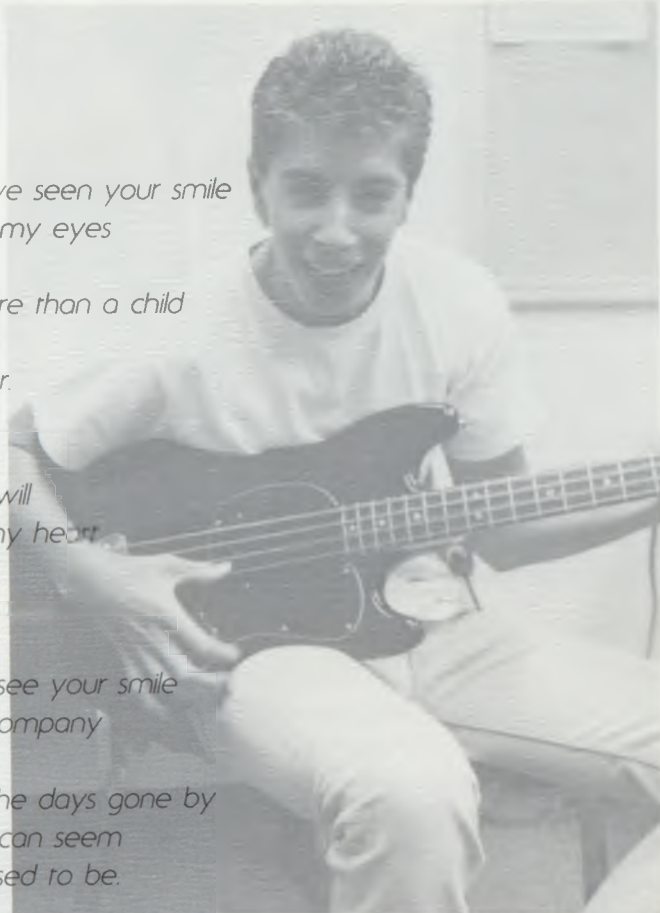

Long time since I've seen your smile
 But When I close my eyes
 I remember.
 You were no more than a child
 But then so was I
 Young and tender.

Time carries on
 I guess it always will
 But deep inside my heart
 Time stands still.

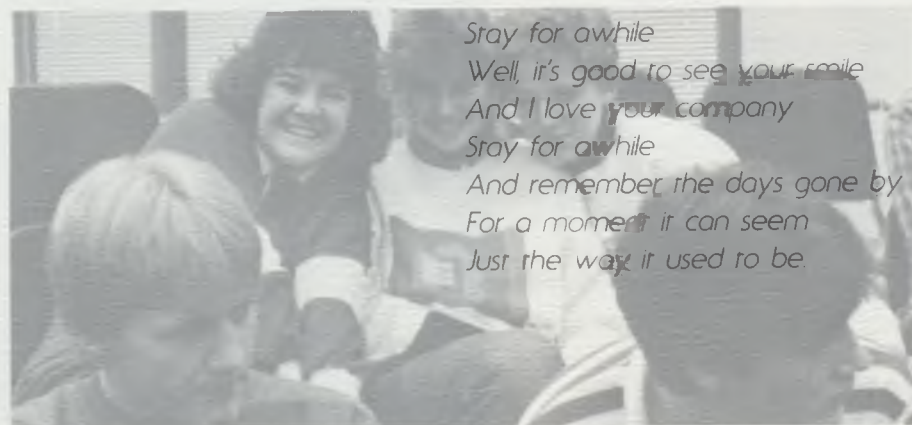

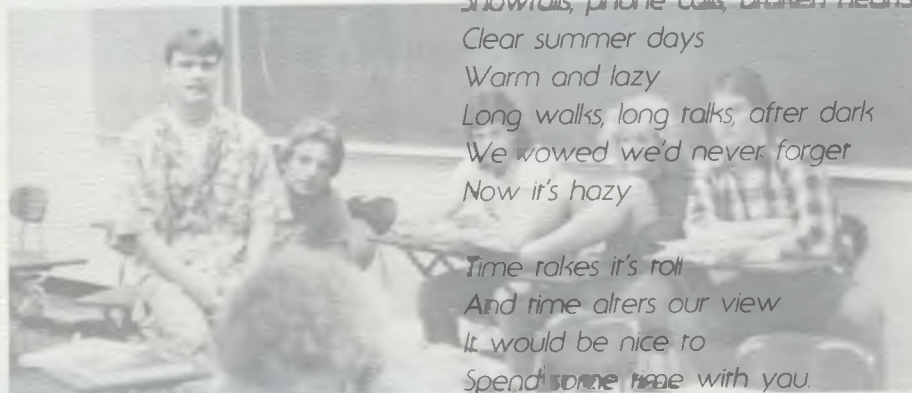

Stay for awhile
 Well, it's good to see your smile
 and I love your company
 Stay for awhile
 And remember the days gone by
 For a moment it can seem
 Just the way it used to be.

Snowfalls, phone calls, broken hearts
 Clear summer days
 Warm and lazy
 Long walks, long talks, after dark
 We vowed we'd never forget
 Now it's hazy

Time takes it's toll
 And time alters our view
 It would be nice to Spend some time with you.

Stay for awhile
 Well, it's good to see your smile
 And I love your company
 Stay for awhile
 And remember the days gone by
 For a moment it can seem
 Just the way it used to be.

This year was one of many transitions for Johnston and for Annual. Our new teacher for Annual was Miss Smith, and with only two people coming back, everyone had a lot of learning to do.

Being the editor of a year-book is a difficult job. One has to worry about others' work as well as their own. This year I got lucky. There were sixteen eager members who were patient with me. Corrie Chatterton and Shelaine Harbart helped out as co-editors. Tawnia Clarkson, Trina Cooney, Miki Polder and Shannon Sorter taught the techniques of picture taking. Leslie Kirkman, Penny Nichols, and Meredith Kirkland helped keep things organized, while Todd Woodsmall, Jennifer Wilkinson, Alison Johnston, and Rob Leach kept things crazy. Jenny Fowler was one person responsible for our creative cover design, and Holly Rowles told everyone what to do. And me, well, I did my best to yell and look authoritative. It never worked. During all of this we still had time to get our pages finished and create a book we think you will like. This year was a good one, and I hope this book will help everyone keep the memories of high school.

Thanks for a great year, staff and Miss Smith. Good luck next year. Your editor, Keri Srokstad.
